FAD lamp in dark wenge by Miguel MILÁ for Santa & Cole with a round beige lampshade. The FAD table lamp, designed in 1973 by Miguel Milá and produced by the Spanish manufacturer Santa & Cole, illuminated the first offices of the Society of Decorative Arts in Barcelona. It consists of a solid wenge base, hollowed out in the centre, into which a lampshade entirely covered in linen is fitted. Stability is ensured by a cross-shaped base. This lamp, which has since become a cult object, combines simplicity with the elegance of its colours and materials. Origin: Spain
