Monsieur's

Chest of Drawers A reproduction of a French 'Regency' period chest of drawers, whose so-called 'crossbow' shape remains highly representative of the style of the era. It features three drawers adorned with locks and handles featuring an acanthus motif. The interior of each drawer is painted in Flemish red, lending it an elegant and modern touch. Its name refers to 'Monsieur', the brother of King Louis XIV, who introduced the fashion for red heels at Versailles. Origin: Asian

Period: 21st century

Materials: Painted wood
