Coastguard

Searchlight We are always on the lookout for a lucky find; this original 1930s marine searchlight was unearthed in an antique shop in Greenwich, England. In a way, this light is a marvellous combination of vintage technology, maritime romance and lighting efficiency. Perched on its imposing rosewood tripod, this light dominates a room and lends it character – a key element of contemporary interior design philosophy. Our replica is an AM exclusive, handmade from brass and aluminium. It bears the AM signature for those who appreciate masterful craftsmanship and technical skill. A significant addition to our now well-known collection of spotlights and lamps.
